I am an outgoing highly motivated professional that thoroughly enjoys being a part of all aspects of the day to day operations of a business. I have experiences ranging from being in the retail industry, the hospitality industry and mostly business administration and management. I enjoy sales and marketing as well as providing optimal business support. Recently I have branched out into software development and database design to pursue an increased efficiency in day to day operations and processes. I will continue to pursue endeavors that will nourish my mind and challenge me to advance my personal and professional life.
